

Supporting Documents: Guide for Health Professionals

To submit an application for withdrawal without penalty, a student must demonstrate that their circumstances made it impractical for them to complete their studies and have this documented by a registered independent health professional.

To help Macquarie University determine whether a student's circumstances made it impractical for them to complete their studies, the following types of evidence are accepted:

Supporting Documents

Should reflect the health professional's independent opinion of the student's ability to study and be based on the professional a) having met with the student at the time they were affected or b) having sufficient evidence to make a judgement retrospectively about impact during the study session. Any evidence which states "the student reports that" they were being affected by circumstances, in the absence of an independent professional opinion, does not constitute meaningful evidence for a claim.

For limited ability to study – professionals should include an opinion on:

- the student's capacity to study
- how many units may be reasonable for the student to undertake, if they are being recommended to reduce their study load; and
- why the student is/was able to complete some units and not others in the same study period if not requesting to withdraw from all units.

In addition to the above information a student may be required to demonstrate the following

Fit to Sit

Macquarie University operates under a Fit to Sit model. In sitting an exam, test or an assessment they have declared themselves fit to do so.

An application for withdrawal without penalty will only be considered where it can be demonstrated that the student was:

- unfit to make reasonable judgement on their fitness to undertake the assessment, due to mental illness or other exceptional circumstances; or
- taken ill during the assessment (in the case of an examination or test); or
- other exceptional circumstances beyond their control vitiated the Fit to Sit declaration.
