You may have heard Macquarie University has a new curriculum architecture that will be implemented in 2020. The new curriculum is all about creating a clearer study path for MQ students and offering a greater depth and breadth of study options.

Faculties will complete course renewal work by early 2019. After then, you’ll receive information about the curriculum changes and any considerations or options that may be available to you in your current study path. Until then, you do not have to do anything.

We will contact you with more information about your unique study circumstances in 2019. However, if you have any concerns or questions in the meantime, send via AskMQ with “MQ2020 Curriculum Transformation” in the subject line.

Here’s a few basics…

New students in 2019: If you commence your studies with us in 2019 you will study within the current curriculum throughout 2019 - with the exception of the current People and Planet requirements* - and move to the new MQ curriculum architecture in 2020.

Students commencing prior to 2019: Students who commenced their studies prior to 2019 will study within the current curriculum throughout 2019 and move to the new MQ curriculum architecture in 2020.

Students commencing in 2020: Students commencing in 2020 will study within the new MQ curriculum for the entirety of their course.

*The current People and Planet requirements have been absorbed into a new flexible zone, offering students who are commencing in 2019 a more diverse range of elective choices. This does not impact students who have already completed the People and Planet requirements.
